

11 February 2014

To: Whomever it may concern

Subj: Letter of recommendation for Aaron Linsdau, Polar Explorer and Eagle Scout.

Aaron is a very motivated and passionate speaker when speaking of his explorer adventure and work related experience. He is able to emphasize what it takes to reach within yourself to be your very best and achieve your goals. Aaron is able to speak to people of all ages, from the very young to the young at heart and keep them interested to the very end and wanting more. Most importantly, he does not take his dream or anyone else's lightly. This man has a real passion and ability to inspire others in pursuing their dreams.

After following Aaron on his web site in preparing for his journey to ski solo across Antarctica and reviewing his actual journey to the South Pole, I invited him to speak at a Boy Scouts of America, San Diego District adult event. From there he was invited to speak at a couple of other events at the Boy Scout level and to their parents (6 yrs. and above), a speaking engagements at the Kiwanis Club and Federally Employed Women, San Diego Chapter followed, and in April he will be the Guest Of Honor to speak at the Eagle Scout Recognition Dinner. This dinner will consist of all boys that made the rank of Eagle Scout in the past year and adult professionals in the business community (congressional members, judges, high ranking military, engineers, etc.).

The San Diego Union Tribune newspaper published an article on Aaron's expedition in January 2014 and in June 2014 the National Eagle Scout Association magazine will be featuring an article on Aaron and his expedition.

I am very pleased to recommend Aaron Linsdau as a guest speaker. His journey and what it took for him to be able to accomplish it is truly amazing. Aaron's journey should be shared as much as possible. He is an example of what one person can accomplished by working hard, enduring change and adversity and becoming the best they can be. He embodies the spirit and essence of the modern day explorer.

R/S

Jeanette C. Castor
737 Beyer Way
San Diego, CA 92154
castorjc@cox.net