

Locals Logic & Lingo

Why is Jackson & Grand Teton listed before Yellowstone? Locals go to Grand Teton, affectionately referred to as THE PARK. When locals say THE PARK, they mean Grand Teton. See the most iconic American mountain range up close.

Yellowstone is awesome, worth it, and is a must-see. In order to visit the main sights, plan for a full day of travel. If you leave Jackson at 7am, stop at West Thumb, Old Faithful and the Canyon, you will return to town at 9pm. Warning: The 45MPH park speed limit is rigidly enforced.

Find these locations & more

Point your browser to:

www.ncexped.com/jackson

to find directions (and more) for the places listed in this brochure.

Safety

If you are hiking ANYWHERE around Jackson, Grand Teton, or Yellowstone, carry bear spray. Best prices at the town's 4 grocery stores or K-Mart. Bears are dangerous.

Bison & moose don't care about bear spray. Stay far away from them unless you want to become a human pincushion. Google "2015 bison gores girl".

Mountain climbing is dangerous. Consult your doctor, park rangers, and check the weather. People die here every year. This is the real deal—we want you to return safely!

If you are unsure about anything seek professional guidance. Check for closures before leaving.

Keep safety & courtesy in mind at all times!

"Overcome difficulties and achieve goals you never imagined possible using only this: Positive Attitude."

About Aaron Linsdau

Aaron Linsdau, polar explorer & motivational speaker, set the WORLD RECORD for the longest expedition from Hercules Inlet on the coast of Antarctica to the South Pole (720 miles) and became the second only American ski it alone.

Experience the expedition in the book Antarctic Tears. Get yours at: By Nature Gallery, Valley Books, Skinny Skis, Book Trader, & the Wort Hotel. Available in: paperback, CD box set, DVD documentary, MP3 on USB drive, and digital download from sastrugipress.com.

Aaron speaks about: grit, courage, attitude, resilience, and perseverance. He customizes material for your audience.

Aaron's stories of surviving disease, equipment failure, and breakdown entertain & teach valuable business lessons. This Jackson local captivates & inspires audiences with ideas to implement today.

BOOK AARON LINDAU FOR YOUR NEXT EVENT!

760•385•3591 / contact@ncexped.com

www.ncexped.com

Jackson Hole Chamber of Commerce member

FREE, TAKE ONE

JACKSON HOLE SECRETS

LOCALS INFO

Hit these spots in Jackson, Grand Teton, and Yellowstone. Why travel all the way here only to miss the best things locals know?

Presented by:
Polar Explorer and Motivational Speaker

Aaron Linsdau

2nd only American to ski to the South Pole alone
World Record Holder: Longest HI-SP Expedition

Jackson Hole

Silver Dollar Bar

Where else can you see 2,032 uncirculated 1921 Morgan Silver Dollars coating an entire bar? It's the best watering hole in town. What burned down the hotel? Do secret tunnels connect to the Cowboy? Is gambling still legal? Ask... (Kids OK until 6pm).

Wort Hotel, 50 N. Glenwood

It's Jackson Time

You came to Wyoming—get an awesome knife. Switchblades, regular and out-the-front knives. Buy a great watch, too. Band-Aids optional.

60 E. Broadway, hidden under Snake River Grill

By Nature Gallery

See real dinosaurs, fossils, ancient monsters, & natural wonders. Are you into crystals? This is the place. Crack your own geode. Completely kid-friendly.

86 E. Broadway, next to Häagen-Dazs Ice Cream

Pinky G's Pizza

Where do you go to find a good slice of pizza & a drink on the cheap? Mingle with locals.

Local tip: Order the slice of the day extra crispy.

Under The Rose, hidden behind JH Roasters

Have only a few hours to hike?

Cache Creek is where the locals go to get their outdoor fix. Want to enjoy nature without driving to the park? Hike or bike on the edge of town with the book Cache Creek by Susan Marsh. Buy it locally: By Nature Gallery, Booktrader, Valley Books. See website on back for more retailers.

Book polar explorer & speaker
Aaron Linsdau for your next event.

He is the 2nd only American to ski
ALONE to the South Pole.

Grit • Courage • Attitude

Grand Teton

See link on back to find these places

Jenny Lake One-Way

Few take the one-way road along Jenny Lake. Capture the best lake-canyon-mountain view in THE PARK. Drive down the short tunnel of trees. You'll see where to stop. Remember your camera.

Hidden Falls/Inspiration Pt.

If you're adventurous, hike to Hidden Falls and up to Inspiration Point. The trail is fairly easy and fun. Enjoy the boat ride back across Jenny Lake.

See Safety

Moulton Barn

This is the most iconic barn in North America. Arrive before sunrise. Join 17 other photographers. Bonus points: Coffee+cups=new friends.

Dornan's Pizza–Chuckwagon

Drink & eat while viewing the Tetons. Dinner at the chuckwagon: same view+cast-iron mouth-watering cooking. In the park early? All-you-can-eat sour-dough pancake breakfast. Gorgeous view.

Menor's Ferry

Arrive early for free, freshly-baked gingersnap cookies. Show your kids what old-school really means.

Schwabacher's Landing

Best at sunrise but it can be crowded. Gorgeous at sunset, too. Hike 100 yards to see the beaver lodge and dam. Bring bug repellent.

"There was no quitting. It was not an option."

—Aaron Linsdau, Antarctic Tears

Book Aaron Linsdau for your next event today!

Resilience • Perseverance • Motivation

Moose-Wilson Road

Best chance to see animals. You never know what you'll find on any given day. Please be courteous on this road—it's narrow & curvy.

The Park River (4x4) Road

Get away from the crowds & drive gently. See the unvisited side of the Snake River. Popular with wildlife guides. It can require 4-wheel drive, depending on weather. See Safety

Chapel of Transfiguration

A lot of tour buses stop here, so it's not quite a locals spot. The view out that window in fall is to die for.

Static Peak

It's the "easiest" peak to bag in the park. Expect a 10 hour, 17 mile round trip hike through bear country.

See Safety

Yellowstone

See link on back on how to find these places

With nearly 4 million visitors, are there secret locations in Yellowstone? See the link on back for more. Locals take people to West Thumb, Old Faithful, and the Canyon in a long day.

Aaron Linsdau's talks are an excellent addition to your next corporate, organization, or school event. Motivate the audience and generate buzz.

Keynote speaker Aaron connects with people, delivering energy and excitement. Learn valuable business lessons while being entertained by his engaging and personable style.